

THE WEEKLY BREW

The Official Newsletter of NAKID • September 26, 2007

Unfortunately there has been a consistent problem on Tuesdays with teams not obeying the rules and umpires not enforcing the rules, so we are going to address this one time and one time only.

To pitchers: The rules make it clear that while pitchers may cross over the strip while in their pitching motion; they MUST try to get back behind it before the ball is kicked. Taking one or more steps toward home plate constitutes cheating. Pitchers caught doing this after being warned will from now on be removed from the game. This past week two teams did this. It will no longer be tolerated.

To umpires: The rules MUST be enforced; it is not your decision to call a rule wrong for both sides or to enforce some and not others. The above rule must be called to make the game fair. If the home plate umpire cannot call balls and strikes and watch the pitcher at the same time then task the third or first base ump to do that. Saying, "I can't do both" or "I will call it the same for both sides" is not acceptable. Umpires who refuse to enforce the rules will be removed from the game.

The reason this rule exists is to make the game fair for everyone, especially women. If most women cannot bunt they will not play in NAKID. If women do not play in NAKID there is no sense in having a league. So enforce and obey the rules.

Bromance

Describes the complicated love and affection shared by two straight males.

Put on Your Manpants teammates Joe and ??? are not afraid to show the world their Bromance. Whether it's shirts rolled girl style or hugging it out, they publicly show their affection and share their love for NAKID.

TUESDAY RECAP: SCHOOL NIGHT

The lone undefeated team left on Tuesday fell this past week in a game that featured some less than fair play as mentioned on page one. Carlton Banks Dance Academy lost to the Transplants, 4-1. Pour Me Another Hurricane managed to defeat Drinking You Pretty 11-3. Balls Deepest won a close game over Donkeystyle by a 5-4 final.

The Normalizers also found some problems obeying the pitcher's mound rule in falling to the Dirty Pirate Hookers, 5-4. The Medicine Balls are still looking for their first win after losing to Third Base on the First Date, 18-0.

Again, we'd like to see a better turnout at the bar and hopefully that will happen this week.

No Happy Hour this week, but we have the Twice on Sunday, Bocce, and OG Chapter "Anything but Clothing" Midseason Party! The party is this Saturday from 7pm-1am at 3812 13th St. N in Arlington—just 4 blocks from the Virginia Square metro station. As always, the players on Sunday will be allowed in for free, School Night and Drinking Day players will pay just $5 ($10 with no costume), and guests will be permitted to attend for $10 ($20 with no costume).

We'll have flip cup, a dj, and lots and lots of alcohol. You won't want to miss our first party of the fall season, so make sure you are there!

Capitol City Carnival and Beer Festival: All The Hoppy Goodness You Missed

On a bit of a warm and overcast day NAKID headed out for what sounds like it was made just for us—the Capitol City Carnival and Beer Festival. Morning bus ride mimosas got the trip started off right, and after having to leave a bent over and I-have-to-go-and-can't-wait Kevin Chenery of the Blumpkins off about two miles from the festival site, we arrived.

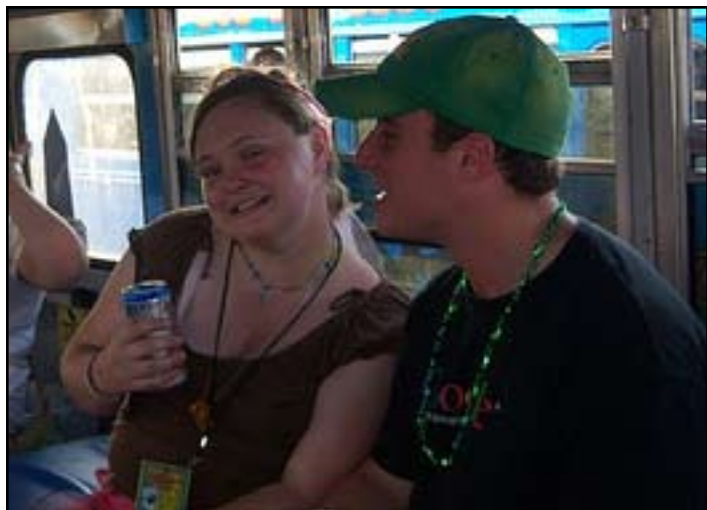

We had a drawing for a backstage VIP pass as we disembarked and it was won by Shawn (aka Muscles) of the Hoochie Mamas. The pass also got him free food and beer all day. Inside there was a definitely different vibe from the Wine Festival of a week ago. Hoopa hoops, hemp, and hippies abounded. And within an hour or so, many NAKIDS were feeling pretty good.

As the day wore on and the NAKID ladies became princesses (complete with halos and flowing bling) a few of our drunkasses got a ride around the grounds in a golf cart. Our contingent from THAT Team seemed pretty well baked and having a lot of fun, as did the ladies of the Blumpkins.

Several good brewers were represented at the festival and we enjoyed the tasting but, sadly, due to Virginia's laws we could not actually buy any beer to keep. So, in true NAKID fashion, we consumed as much as we could there. Some people rode the ferris wheel, others ran the obstacle course, but mainly we stayed in the “Sober Up” tent and just kept drinking in the shade. While many were disappointed that we could not stay for George Clinton, there were a couple of sightings of him backstage by the NAKID VIPs. Most people seemed pretty well done by the time we left at about 6pm as it was. Another great NAKID trip that we will definitely be repeating in the future.

SPORTS (where the real games are found)

The Magic 8 Ball was less than pleased with the amount of flip cup played this past week. However she will say that Third Base on the First Date is clearly her favorite team owing to the fact that they are ALWAYS willing to play. They may not be the best, but they are at the tables and never turn down an invitation to play. The rest of you need to take a cue from them and get out there every week. The standings:

1. (tie) Drinking You Pretty - Let's play the other two.
1. (tie) Balls Deepest - A Three way?
1. (tie) Dirty Pirate Hookers - Could be the best.
4. Third Base on the First Date - As stated, always playing.
5. Pour Me Another Hurricane - On the move.
6. Dick in a Box - Need to play other teams more.
7. The Transplants - Better at the tables than on the field.
8. Donkesytyle - Can be better.
9. Medicine Balls - Come on!
10. Kickin' Balls and Takin' Names - Ref week hurts the turnout.
11. Normalizers - Small showing.
12. Carlton Banks Dance Academy - Outside too long.
